

Excellence in Giving INTERNSHIP OVERVIEW

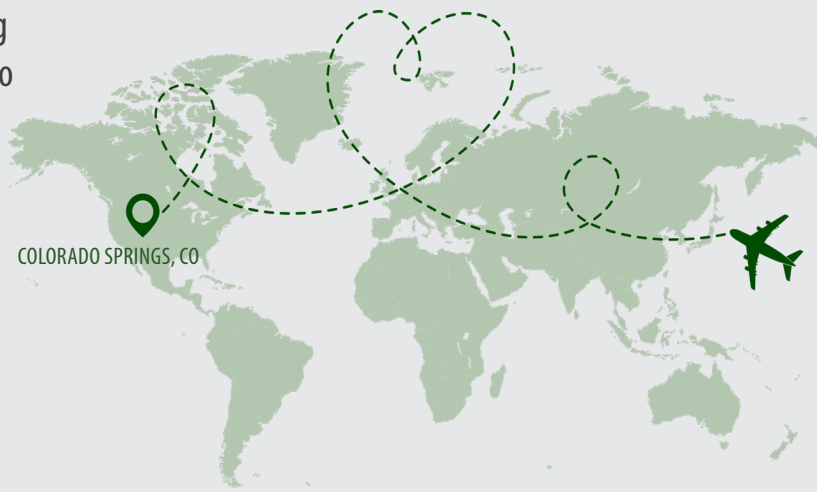

Bill Gates, Warren Buffet, Steve Jobs, and Andrew Carnegie all agree - it is harder to give money away intelligently than it is to make it in the first place.

How do philanthropists turn giving goals into giving strategies that permanently transform lives? They turn to Excellence in Giving. If you want to learn about philanthropy, and how our philanthropic advisory firm supports high-capacity clients in their giving, this is the internship for you!

Our clients are changemakers. Our interns are too.

Excellence in Giving interns learn how to give money wisely.

Excellence in Giving interns love working with nonprofits!

"During my summer with Excellence in Giving, I gained a deep knowledge of philanthropy, social enterprise, and impact investing. Besides the stimulating work and engaging content, the people truly made the experience. Al, Paul, and the rest of the team were equally interested in my personal growth as in the value I added to the firm."

Patrick, Past Intern, Yale MBA, Rockefeller Philanthropy Advisor

INTERNSHIP DETAILS

- WHAT? Interns work closely with the Client Services team, the Research team, and the Relationship Management teams to support Excellence in Giving in a variety of ways. This project-based position allows interns to gain experience in various departments while learning more about the business and investment world. Excellence in Giving interns build familiarity with nonprofit management, research-based outcomes measures, and philanthropic communities. This is an excellent opportunity for someone interested in learning more about philanthropy or someone interested in working in the nonprofit field.
- WHO? Juniors, seniors, or recent graduates interested in performance-based evaluations and working in the philanthropic sector. Experience in business management, marketing, or finance is suggested.
- WHERE? Interns work out of Excellence in Giving offices near downtown Colorado Springs, Colorado. You can change the world during the week and play in the Rockies all weekend!
- WHEN? Educational, unpaid internships last 6-12 weeks based on intern availability and school requirements. Full-time, paid internships last 4-12 months and are typically scheduled during the summer months.

BENEFITS

Learn the Art and Science of Intelligent Philanthropy

Excellence in Giving takes a results-based approach to nonprofit investment that employs the same principles of due diligence used on Wall Street and engaged by businesses across the globe. Interns have a unique opportunity to apply what they learn as our office identifies industry benchmarks and helps clients choose nonprofits worthy of their support.

Understand the Importance and Role of Philanthropy

Interns will be exposed to challenges and opportunities faced by high-capacity donors as they invest with the intent of making a lasting difference. This internship provides valuable background for any student seeking a career in the nonprofit, government, or private sector, in addition to business, marketing, or finance.

Interact with the Excellence in Giving Network

Interns will interact with key national and international philanthropic leaders who are leading organizations changing the world. As an intern, you will learn about a whole new set of world-shaping individuals and initiatives.
